My dear Sunita,

Your letter of the 16th February regarding trans fats in our edible oils is very worrying. I have gone through the article in Down to Earth of 1-15 February. As the Government itself had recommended the setting up of standards for trans fats but has not done it, I believe there is a strong case for filing a public interest litigation petition. I think I have some understanding of the issues involved and would be willing to be a party to it in any way that may be helpful. Please think about it and call me on my cell (0-9949476067).

Can you think of any other possible action? Frankly, we do not need hydrogenated fats such as Dalda, which was the first one to be introduced by Hindustan Lever. We have such wonderful alternatives!

With much love,

Yours sincerely,

PM Bhargava
